Many Contractors To Bid On New Lovejoy Road School Project

Plan Tribute To Fire Lieutenant

A meeting of interested citizens will be held on Wednesday July 26, at 7:30 p.m. in the Central Fire Station, to plan a tribute to Lt. J. Woodrow Crowley, who is a patient at Veterans Hospital, Jamaica Plain.

The committee will plan a fitting tribute to the fire department lieutenant who has been hospitalized for several weeks.

Friends of the fire official have sought the assistance of all persons throughout Essex County in planning this tribute, in honor of the man who for the past several years has conducted the March of Dimes drive both here in Andover and throughout the County. In addition to his work with the National Polio

At a meeting of the Andover School Building Committee Tuesday evening, the architectural firm advised the group that some 11 contractors have signified an interest in bidding on the new elementary school to be constructed on Lovejoy rd.

The architects, Clinch, Crimp, Brown and Fisher of Boston, also reported that the site preparation is about 50 percent completed.

Bids on the school will be opened on Aug. 10. All sub-contract bids must be in by Aug. 3.

With the site preparation so far advanced, construction will begin immediately after the contract has been awarded. The school is scheduled for opening in September, 1962.

The Massachusetts School Building Assistance Commission has already approved final plans for the new school.

Inclement Weather Slows Playgrounds

The unsettled weather of the past week forced curtailment of some of the activities on the Andover playgrounds. Some of the events are being re-scheduled and will be carried out as planned.

Shawsheen

A colorful hat show was the highlight of the weekly activities at the Shawsheen playground.

Thomas Tucker was awarded the gold ribbon for the best of the show entry.

Other awards were made to Karen Glennon, Joyce Gordon, Susan Morin, Christine Shanteler, Cynthia Pizzano, Gail Gordon, Harriet Keaney, Lisa Ottaviano, Gary Tucker, Nina Nicolosi, Diane Rabenius and Thomas Walsh.

Registration to date at the playground is 437 boys and girls.

A hobby show is planned for Friday at 10 a.m.

The Arts and Crafts program has placemats scheduled to be made this week.

Ballardvale

A hat show was last week's feature. Winners were as follows: Gold Ribbon, Edward Bradley.

Most Unusual: First, Cynthia Orlando; Second, Kathy Gibbons.

Most Colorful: First, Cheryl Birch; Second, David and Danny Tallini.

New Firm To Locate Here

Andover gained a new industry this week. Monday afternoon officials of the Packet Research Corporation signed final papers allowing them to locate at 19 Lupine rd.

The company manufacturers small, individual containers for salt, pepper, mustard, sugar, and other items.

Roderick W. Hoag is general manager and said that 12 people will be employed immediately and the number will increase to 25 around Sept. 1.

Present at the signing Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Hoag, Walter V. Demers, Leslie N. Hutchinson, Atty. Charles G. Hatch, and Atty. Joseph F. Bacigalupo.

TEACHER IN HOSPITAL

Bernard J. Kellmurray, Main st., of the Andover High School English Department, is a medical patient at Bon Secours Hospital.

NORTH DISTRICT SCHOOL WILL BE HELD BY TOWN

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff reports that while some weeks ago he advised the town to "get out of the real estate business," he had no intention of disposing of the North District School. He said that this property is not for sale or lease.

He said that he intended that such property as the Community building in Ballardvale be disposed of. In this case, the Bradlee school property could take over the functions now carried out at the Community building.

Candidates For Town Positions

Candidates have filed for two pending positions authorized at the annual town meeting.

The posts open are for a recreational director and an engineer to work with several town departments.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff submitted the name of one candidate for the office of recreation director, but the selectmen failed to act on the nomination. Since then, there has been little official action. Two additional applications were received of late.

Six applicants have filled for the engineering post which involves assisting the planning board, board of appeals and other municipal agencies with technical matters.

Improvement Society Given Gift Of Land

A gift of six acres of land near the easterly shore of Haggett's Pond in West Andover has been made to the Andover Village Improvement Society by Fred E. Cheever, 9 Bancroft rd., according to an announcement made this week by Lester C. Newton, secretary of the society.

The tract is bounded by Route 93, northerly by land of unknown ownership and a brook, and southerly by land formerly owned by the American Woolen company.

This land was conveyed to Mr. Cheever by deed of Charles W. Trombly, public administrator of the estate of Eliza B. Blanchard.

The area is partly hilly and swamp land, the type of preserve the society is looking for. The westerly side of the same tract, on the opposite side of the highway, was given to the Town of Andover.

The name of Fred Cheever is now added to the list of donors of land to the society: Walter Donald, Carl and Ruth Stevens, Mary Byers Smith, George K. Sanborn, and Harry Sellars. Other persons have contributed gifts of money to build up funds for investment in charge of the Society's investment committee headed by Edmond E. Ham-

Camp Harold Parker Has Active Program

For the third year, local Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls are enjoying day camping at Camp Harold Parker, the day camp operated by the Council for Greater Boston Camp Fire Girls and jointly sponsored by the Merrimack Valley, Bear Hill, and North Reading Districts.

Mrs. Ruth Reitinger, District Director of the Greater Boston Council and former field representative to this area, is camp director. She has been aided this year by Mrs. Robert Foster of Andover, Day Camp Chairman for the Merrimack Valley District.

Once again the lovely forest has provided an ideal setting for the carefully planned program that combines swimming, archery, nature classes, arts and crafts, sports and games, singing, outdoor cooking and outdoor living.

The popularity of such a program has been proven by the increased advance registration this year.

Serving as program aides for the first week were the following Andover girls: Carolyn Conroy, Margaret Warshaw, Lynne Ellen Campbell and Barbara Musen. Assisting the waterfront director, Mrs. William Westphal of Andover, were Jo Foster, Moira Prout and Pat Roversi.

Andover campers registered for the first week included Cynthia Westphal, Susan Westphal, Katherine Hanst, Janet Schriner, Kathleen Anderson, Susan Cox, Roanne Fitzgerald, Edith Debolt, Anne Hanst, Janet Cromie, Patricia Valentine, Pamela Prodan, Karen Mears, Wendy Prodan, Carol Rokes, Sheila Prout, Sue Ann Otto, Barbara Evenson, Linda Herrick, Patricia Dodd, Marylin Donahue, Beverly Haefling, Catherine Steele and Deborah Durham. William Westphal is registered as one of the pre-school campers in Unit 1, the children of the volunteer staff.

Camp Harold Parker, which opened July 10, will operate for a four week period, meeting daily Monday through Thursday.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Do The Voters' Actions Count?

Last March, voters attending town meeting appropriated funds to pay a recreation director. The need was described at that time, and the voters accepted various expressions by town officials and others as being valid.

Since then, and even before that time, there have been various suggestions for recreational activities – and most of these have been referred to a "pending" file until the appointment of such a person. The Recreation Council, whose members are citizens with an interest in this field, sponsored adult courses this past winter and spring – and it has been thought by many that a recreation director would include this type of activity in his over-all plan, thus relieving private citizens of work that might logically be the responsibility of the municipality.

In short, there's plenty for a recreation director to do.

But we have no director.

Any sort of planning for the fall and winter obviously should be underway now, so that a smooth, workable program will be available when fall comes.

If the town manager and Selectmen are not going to appoint a director immediately, perhaps the Recreation Committee should pick up the loose ends and prepare its own plan. The voters indicated they want planned recreation; if we can't get it from the yet-to-be-appointed director, maybe the Committee can fill in until the town officials get around to the appointment. If this involves appointing one of their number as acting director, then let this be done, too.

One way or another, let's get this show on the road, not bury it in a fog of official inactivity.

Proper House Numbers

Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton has again urged homeowners to number their houses properly, according to the numbers given the house by the assessors.

This may seem a small matter-but to the person who needs emergency service, it can be a subject of paramount importance. If the fire trucks, or the ambulance, have to search a street for a house, valuable time is lost. And this happens too frequently.

The firefighters, who are not mind readers, can't be expected to know that No. 5 is on the wrong side of No. 9; or that one even number remains on a house, on the side of the street where all should have odd numbers.

It would, by all means, be in your own best interests to have your home properly numbered.

We'd Like To Vote For Perry

Although Rep. Francis W. Perry of Duxbury doesn't live here, nor represent this district, he can have our vote as an honest, forthright man, courageous enough to voice his opinions.

He is the man who has continued to expose practices in the Waterways Division, which he calls "sweetheart deals", and which he feels to be wrong.

Where many elected officials prefer to let this sort of sleeping dog lie, Perry has had the dogged determination needed to get at least some of the facts out in the open where we can all see them.

It's too bad he doesn't represent our district – we'd like a chance to vote for a man of this calibre.

Mrs. William Ledwell and her two sons of Chicago, Ill., are visiting relatives in town.

The tower on the front of the main Academy building has been removed and a plainer front will be substituted. The work of remodelling the Seminary building into offices for the principal, treasurer and registrar has also commenced.

David Skea and his two sons, George and Charles, sailed from Boston last Saturday on the steamer Parisian, on a visit to their old home in Scotland.

25 Years Ago – July, 1936

There's an old saying that lightning never strikes twice in the same place. But that doesn't hold true for three times. The lightning hit three times inside of 15 minutes at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Franklin on Woodland rd. Saturday morning. The first bolt struck a tree 10 feet in front of the house; the second hit the dining room, damaging clapboards and putting the electricity out of order; then the third bolt literally tore to pieces an ash tree some 20 feet from the house.

Land values in certain areas of town have been increased, and this, coupled with the $4 increase in the tax rate, means that some residents are paying a good deal more in taxes this year. The assessors, in raising the values, followed a policy stated last year that specific sections of town would be re-appraised each year.

Two Andover persons required emergency blood service from the Red Cross last month, with the local Chapter finding over a dozen volunteers to give the badly-needed blood.

Beer bottles were popping with machine-gun rapidity in a fire that destroyed 200 cases of the brew and badly damaged a truck in which they were being transported on the By-Pass. The Wednesday afternoon fire sounded like Fourth of July, as firefighters were compelled to turn their hoses on the truck fire. The cold water hitting the bottles produced the explosions.

CAPITOL COMMENT

By YOUR CONGRESSMAN
BRAD MORSE

Though Congress was knee-high by the Fourth of July in unfinished business, the leadership called a virtual work-halt during the holiday week - disappointing tourists who hoped to see the House and Senate in action, and increasing the risk of hasty legislating on the part of those members anxious to wind up business by Labor Day. With adjournment of the first session of the 87th Congress rapidly approaching, I thought you might be interested in the status of the major bills which have attracted scores of letters from you since January.

National Defense and Internal Security: $42.7 billion Department of Defense Appropriation, passed by House, now before the Senate Appropriations Committee; $1.7 billion authorization for National Aeronautics and Space Administration, passed by both House and Senate; conference committee of members of both bodies are meeting to reconcile differences in House and Senate versions of the measure; $226.4 million authorization for Atomic Energy Commission construction projects. Approved by Joint Committee on Atomic Energy. Next step - debate on the House floor.

Amendments to the Foreign Agents Registration Act, to strengthen it, and to establish an Office of Controller of Foreign Propaganda in the Bureau of Customs. Favorably reported by the House Un-American Activities Committee for full House consideration.

Definition and clarification of term "organize" in the Smith Act so that the Act would apply to continuing as well as original Communist activities. Passed by the House, now awaiting consideration by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Prohibition of shipment of weapons in interstate commerce by or to any person convicted of a felony. Approved by the Senate, now in the House Ways and Means Committee.

Foreign Affairs: $4.5 billion foreign aid request now under study in executive sessions in both House and Senate committees. Final committee action is expected within the next few weeks. Resolution expressing the sense of Congress that the Organization of American States re-evaluate the role of Cuba in inter-American affairs and take such steps as it deems necessary toward imposition of sanctions under the Inter-American Treaty of Reciprocal Assistance. Passed by the House, pending in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Authorization permitting President to grant economic aid to Iron Curtain countries, except the Soviet Union and Communist-held areas in the Far East, when it deems it necessary to U. S. security. Passed by the Senate, pending in House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Extension of Presidential authority to use surplus farm products for underdeveloped nations. Passed by the Senate, the House Foreign Affairs Committee has sent it to the House floor with a favorable report.

Reduction from $500 to $100 the value of goods returning Americans may bring back duty free from abroad. Passed by House; favorably reported by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Domestic Affairs: Tax revision, as proposed by the White House, still is the subject of intensive study in the Ways and Means Committee. Aid to education bill passed by the Senate calls for 3-year, $2.5 billion program for school construction and teacher pay. House bill stills awaits decision of Rules Committee.

Omnibus farm bill, under debate in both House and Senate Agriculture Committee executive sessions. Creation of a Commission on Noxious and Obscene Matters and Materials to explore means of combating distribution of pornographic literature. Passed by Senate; now in House Education and Labor Committee.

Authorization of a 10-year program of oceanographic research and surveys. Reported by the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee for full Senate action.

Medical care for the aged: Ways and Means Committee has announced it will hold hearings late in July or early in August. Full Congressional action not anticipated until next year.

Establishment of a National Cape Cod Seashore Park. Differing versions passed by House and Senate now being reconciled by House-Senate conferees.

Veterans Affairs: Authorization of payment of $60 million special dividends to eligible policyholders of National Service Life Insurance. Passed by the House and favorably reported by the Senate Finance Committee for full Senate consideration.

Establishment of a permanent program of vocational rehabilitation for veterans with service-connected disabilities serving between WWII and Korea and thereafter. Passed by House, hearings on the bill have been completed in the Senate Subcommittee on Veterans Affairs.

Benefit increase for parents and children of veterans who have died of service-connected disabilities. Reported for full House consideration by Veterans Affairs Committee.

Summer Fun

If there is to be a party for small people, there is a visual program that the library would suggest to the person planning the entertainment. Over a number of years the library has been adding filmstrips to its collection, and can now offer over 50 of these strips to the public. Any person wishing to show the strips may borrow the library slide projector, a simple operated machine for throwing the pictures onto a screen.

For very little viewers there are a number of well-known stories now made into filmstrips. "Caps For Sale" is based on the familiar story of "Monkey See, Monkey Do." This is particularly good as an "ice-breaker." "Make Way For Ducklings" is another that always holds the attention of a pre-school group, and "Millions Of Cats", by Wanda Gag, tells the story of an old man and his wife who decide to add a kitten to their family, with amazing consequences. "Andy And The Lion" would be a good choice for a party program, along with "Stone Soup." One of the most popular would be "Mike Mulligan And His Steamshovel", an amusing story of a man who took great pride in his steamshovel, and proved that it could do almost anything.

Anyone interested may have a full listing of the library's holdings in this type of non-book material.

On Vacation

Mrs. Gertrude Hart, Mrs. Ethel Wilson and Mrs. Margaret Berry of the library staff are enjoying their annual vacation.

Bookworm Reading Club

Over 250 boys and girls have signed the membership roll of the Bookworm Reading Club in the Children's Room of the library. Each child is given a booklist from which titles are selected and read. These are graded so that a child will not be discouraged by too difficult material. This year the theme is "The Bookworms Go Traveling With Focus On Africa." For every three books read, a member is allowed to place a star on a large map of Africa, hanging on the wall.

All members will be invited to a party in the fall.

Recording Supplements

Music lovers will be interested to know that the 1961 supplement to the catalog of library recordings is now ready. It includes those albums added last year up to early January.

In addition to the music recordings there are a number of language study recordings on the list: "Learn German In Record Time", "Learn Spanish In Record Time",

Have Article On B.U. Professor Who Lived Here

The summer edition of "Bostonia," the Boston University Alumni magazine contains a feature entitled: "A Portfolio of Teachers," which is a series of articles on some of the best known and long remembered professors in the institution.

One of the profiles is on the late Professor Franklin G. Roberts who served B. U. from 1928 to 1958. He was a former resident of Elm street and lived in Andover for many years. The article is as follows:

"Tall, whitehaired, slender... he called him Mr. Chips.

"This 'Old New England Schoolmaster' combined the past with the present: he was an expert with a divining rod, and he originated the so-called 'Classroom on Wheels.' His teaching technique - the blackboard outline - was as old as the little Red Schoolhouse, but his ability to deviate from the subject and then steer the lecture 'in a subtle yet emphatic manner,' back to the matter at hand, made it as new and fresh as tomorrow.

"There was, for example, the science student who was incredulous when told of the use of divining rods for finding water. Professor Roberts gave him a demonstration; one which wasn't really needed. For, as the student later said, 'I saw Professor Roberts do this. I saw it with my own eyes. But even if he had only told me it could be done, I would still believe it because the man never told a falsehood in his life.'

"And Prof. Pearl Astrid Nelson testifies to his interest in his students, 'Professor Roberts made out one of my doctorate comprehensive examinations in the area of History and Philosophy. Well-written, it was a gem of careful thinking on his part, and showed a sincere consideration for the student. I passed the examination and was notified of this by a personal letter sent to Bath, Maine, where I was teaching that particular summer. 'You are a student of whom I am very proud. You passed the examination with honor,' the note read. One can imagine that a certain new college professor held her head a little higher the next day because of these words.'

The recent untimely death of this 'wonderful, tall, old Chips' took from the world a great educator and humanitarian but let us, with Professor Nelson, 'be grateful for the love and enrichment he brought into our lives.'"

a beautiful custom built home
because of a loan from the
Lawrence Co-operative Bank

Many a local lady and her family lived in unattractive quarters until we showed her husband how they could afford a home built to their specifications.

"Cash requirement" is often the obstacle to folks building a home. We loan up to 80%. . .which means a cash requirement on a $20,000 house of as little as $4,000.

See us about the home you'd like to build. We'll tell you how much house you can afford. . .and show you how the monthly installments fit your budget.
